

THE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 13.

No foolishness. The prompt action and determined attitude of Police Captain McKaig, of Jersey City, prevented at a funeral yesterday a repetition of the scene enacted in front of St. Peter's Catholic Church, that city, a few days ago. The union coach drivers were discussing whether or not to strike because of the presence of a dozen non union drivers on Clarence Edwards' coaches, when Captain McKaig stepped up and in a firm voice delivered this little speech:

"There are fifty two carriages here and fifty two drivers brought them here, and they will either drive them to their destination or go to the police station. If necessary policemen will drive the coaches. There will be no trouble here, gentlemen, if you are wise. If you are not wise there will still be no trouble. Now disperse and attend to your coaches."

That settled all talk of a strike and the union men did as they were directed. The captain had a large squad of men at hand to carry out his purpose. —N. Y. Herald.
